Weekly Sessions on Repertoire and Interpretation of Classical Music

Since music can give us pleasure and comfort under all circumstances, don’t hesitate to join weekly motivational sessions on Repertoire and Interpretation of classical music. The sessions will start on 10 March, and should continue until 28 April. Each session will be presented by Dr Haig Utidjian, Chief Conductor and Chorus Master of the Charles University Orchestra and Chorus. The eminent Sicilian musicologist and choral conductor, Dr Giuseppe Sanfratello, the Australian musicologist and virtuoso violinist of Czech heritage, Dr Sigrid Harris, and the Oxford-based poet (and author of sonnets dedicated to Nielsen's and Bruckner’s symphonies) and advisor to the New Zealand government, Dr Bernard Cadogan, have kindly agreed to feature as guests. The presentations will be held in English.

If you would like to obtain the zoom invitation, kindly contact us at swc@cuni.cz.
